I understand that the cost for all of these events, are already supplemented by the congregation.

I also understand that there are scholarship applications if needed.

Lastly, I understand that all of these events require payments and deadlines beyond DPC's control.

I will try to honor my intent to attend, knowing that there are communal obligations for my attendance.

I will also do my best to meet all payments and deadlines, knowing that I may or may not be able to get a refund if I am unable to attend.
